

Amy Gori

front-end developer

4328 Eno Cemetery Rd
Cedar Grove NC 27231
(919) 259-6192

amydgori@gmail.com
www.amygori.com
@amygori

EDUCATION

Front-End Engineering

The Iron Yard Academy,
Durham NC, June-August 2014

Ph.D. in English Renaissance Literature

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, 2005

M.A. in English

University of North Carolina at
Chapel Hill, 1997

B.A. in English

Franklin & Marshall College,
Lancaster, PA, 1994

EXPERIENCE

Web Coordinator and Board Member

Chapel Hill/Carrboro Mothers' Club,
August 2010–August 2012

Assistant Dean for Undergraduate Curricula

College of Arts & Sciences
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill,
June 2008–August 2009

Senior Academic Advisor

College of Arts & Sciences
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill,
August 2005–June 2008

Special Assistant to President Emeritus William Friday

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill,
April 2003–June 2005

Program Coordinator

NC State Improvement Project, Chapel Hill,
NC, November 2002–April 2003

SKILLS

- > HTML5 and CSS3 (with Sass as a preprocessor)
- > Javascript and jQuery
- > Bower, Yeoman, Gulp.js, Bourbon/Neat
- > Backbone.js client-side applications with Underscore.js
- > Client-side API manipulation using Ajax
- > Deploying Node.js applications to Heroku with Express
- > Responsive designs and mobile first applications
- > Git and Github for version control
- > BDD testing with Mocha/Chai
- > Working collaboratively on Rails projects using ERB
- > Agile workflow to develop, refactor and deploy work
- > Wordpress
- > Exceptional written and verbal communication
- > Critical thinking and problem solving
- > Adept at working with minimal guidance
- > Creatively finding answers and proactively seeking solutions
- > Synthesizing and understanding complex information